The Laconia Planning Board is considering amending the Table of Dimensional Requirements which is part of the City's Zoning Ordinance. The table defines things like setbacks required in the different zoning districts, minimum lot sizes, and green space requirements. There are a series of proposed changes to the table that have been forwarded from the Master Plan Steering Committee. The changes involve adjustments to green space requirements in multiple zoning districts, changes in minimum lot sizes in two districts, and increases in housing density allowed in two districts.

The proposed changes are aimed at achieving three principal objectives:

- The first is to bring Laconia's regulations more in line with surrounding communities or other communities elsewhere in NH that are similar to Laconia.
- The second is to bring more existing lots into conformance with the Zoning Ordinance.
- The third is to allow existing homes in older neighborhoods to perhaps make some improvements without requiring a variance.

A Public Hearing on the amendments will be held during the Planning Board meeting of June 7, 2022. You can review the proposed table by clicking here.

If you have any questions about the proposals, please call the Planning Department at 603-527-1264.

Temple B'nai Israel of Laconia The New Hampshire Jewish Food Festival Celebrates 25 Years and welcomes the Laconia Village Bakery

The New Hampshire Jewish Food Festival will begin accepting online orders beginning on June 1 and continuing to June 30 with pickup, by appointment, on July 22, 23, or 24. Temple B'nai Israel is excited to announce Laconia Village Bakery will be supplying freshly baked rye bread, seeded or unseeded options, to make sandwiches with the deli meats from Evan's NY Style Deli. Along with the usual array of homemade Jewish foods that the Lakes Region has come to enjoy, the menu has been expanded to include halva, a sweet middle eastern treat, homemade Israeli salad, and reimagined recipes on several old favorites such as matzah ball soup and traditional rugalach, a sweet crescent shaped cookie. Quantities are limited so don't wait to order. Visit the temple website, www.tbinh.org, beginning June 1.

This most unique event in the Lakes Region began on Sunday, July 13, 1997. The Jewish Food Festival flyer advertised "delicious, homemade foods – knishes, kugel, hummus, etc. Eat "Under the tent or take home." The event included a raffle, white elephant sale and "other goodies." Temple B'nai Israel (TBI), like all nonprofit organizations, was looking for a way to raise much needed funds, to support various programs, including education and community enrichment. The festival was drawing huge crowds for one day in the busy summer season. As the crowds grew so did the menu which expanded to include stuffed cabbage, corned beef sandwiches, and a bakery table filled with all kinds of homemade goodies.

As the popularity of the Jewish Food Festival grew, the lines would begin forming at the front door by 10 am for the opening at 11 am. By noon, several items were already sold out leading to disappointment and discontent amongst the customers, and especially members of TBI.

The first and easiest solution was to take preorders over the phone to avoid disappointment. This innovation was improved and expanded over time by using computer technology to track and fill the preorders that were placed online. What the festival committee could not have anticipated was just how important this innovation would become in the not-too-distant future, 2020, when the entire world was thrown a curve, Covid-19. There would be no in person Food Festival, but a great deal of the food was already made. The team developed a curbside pick-up plan that was based on the website that was built for preordering. Customers so desperate for comfort foods immediately adopted the change and all the product that was made sold out. The online ordering system was improved and refined for 2021 and another successful online Jewish Food Festival was in the books. It appeared that this format would be the future of The New Hampshire Jewish Food Festival.

Over the years there have been many changes to the Jewish Food Festival, but the consistent component is the focus on the food. Almost every item sold is made by TBI cooking teams in the temple kitchen. The recipes used were handed down from generation to generation. Each year recipes are tweaked by various temple members as innovative ideas brought in by new cooking team members whose grandmothers might have added a pinch of this or changed an ingredient. These innovative ideas get introduced to the discussion during cooking sessions that take place around the temple's kitchen center island. The team is never satisfied with what they have done and is constantly striving to make the products better and the customer experience unmatched. They never lose sight, however that it's about the food and if the products are not unsurpassed, then they haven't done their job.

SOFT PLASTICS

On Saturday, June 4th the Laconia Gilford Lions Club joins the Green Sanctuary Committee of the Unitarian Universalist Society of Laconia, to collect CLEAN SOFT plastics. Powerhouse Theatre Collaborative, a program of the Belknap Mill and the resident theatre company of the Colonial Theatre, is producing a staged reading of Paul Rudnick's comedy I Hate Hamlet as part of the 2022 Mill Series sponsored by Taylor Community.

Performances are at the Belknap Mill on Saturday, May 28th at 7:00 pm and Sunday, May 29th at 2 pm; discussions with the audience and special guests will take place following each performance. Tickets are $10 and can be purchased by cash or check at the door or online at belknapmill.org.

Rudnick's play is about Andrew Rally, a Hollywood actor invited to New York to play the lead in Shakespeare in the Park's production of the Bard's greatest work. The only problem - he hates Hamlet! With a girlfriend who considers herself a modern day Ophelia, a Hollywood friend who wants him to ditch it all and come back to California to film a pilot, a real estate agent renting him John Barrymore's old apartment, and an agent who may or may not have known Barrymore himself, Rally doesn't know what to do. Through a bit of the supernatural, the ghost of Barrymore himself appears to convince Rally to take up the mantle of all the greats who have played Hamlet.

Participating in the post show discussions will be guests Gary Bouchard (Sat. night) of St. Anselm College and Jessie Chapman (Sun. afternoon) of Sandwich's Advice to the Players. The cast for the play reading includes Joel and Laura Iwaskiewicz who recently appeared in Powerhouse's production of Daddy Long Legs, Peter Josephson, Barbara Webb, Tess Hodges, Kenny Aber & Chuck Fray. The production is sponsored by Dow Realty Group and the season sponsors are Grappone Mazda and Spectacle Live. North Main Street railroad crossing is seen around 1900, with Granite Needle Co. (left) and brick Mugridge House at the corner of what is now New Salem Street. The Belknap County Farmers Exchange had purchased the two properties, 100 years ago this week, in 1922, with plans to erect a warehouse there. ## Heat can escalate quickly.

Warm temperatures can quickly become dangerous. Heat is one of the most deadly weather hazards — don't underestimate it.

-  NEVER leave people or pets alone in a closed car
-  Drink plenty of water, even if you don't feel thirsty
-  Wear loose-fitting, light-colored clothing

The memorial service for Edward J. Engler, newspaper founder and former Mayor, will be held on Sunday, June 5, at the Colonial Theatre. Seating is first come, first served and there is no charge to attend.

Doors will open at 9:00 am; the service will begin promptly at 10:00 am.

The family has extended a welcome to all who wish to remember Ed.

Powerhouse Theatre Collaborative is proud to present Seussical the Musical at the Colonial Theatre on August 12th-14th. "Oh, the thinks you can think" when Dr. Seuss' best-loved characters collide and cavort in an unforgettable musical caper! Our favorite Dr. Seuss characters are brought to life in this fantastical, musical extravaganza. Seussical is fun for the whole family with Music by Stephen Flaherty, Lyrics by Lynn Aherns, and Book by Lynn Aherns and Stephen Flaherty!

The Cat in the Hat tells the story of Horton, an elephant who discovers a speck of dust that contains the Whos, including Jojo, a Who child sent off to military school for thinking too many "thinks." Horton faces a double challenge: not only must he protect the Whos from a world of naysayers and dangers, but he must guard an abandoned egg, left in his care by the irresponsible Mayzie La Bird. Although Horton faces ridicule, danger, kidnapping and a trial, the intrepid Gertrude McFuzz never loses faith in him. Ultimately, the powers of friendship, loyalty, family and community are challenged and emerge triumphant.
