Laconia Public Library Upcoming Events.....

Adult Fall Book Discussion

This Fall the Laconia Public Library will host Living and Dying: Love, Mortality and Quality of Life, a book discussion series. This series is part of the Laconia Public Library's ongoing effort to bring quality programming to the community and promote literature based discussions.

The first discussion will be held at the Laconia Public Library on Sept. 13 at 7 pm in Laconia Rotary Hall and will feature Me Before You by JoJo Moyes.

Beaver: Nature's Architects
Thursday, September 15
6:30 pm, Laconia Rotary Hall

The Laconia Public Library is pleased to welcome the Squam Lakes Natural Science Center and their resident beaver. Beavers are a keystone species, important because many other kinds of wildlife depend upon them for survival. Beaver dams create ponds that attract creatures as large as moose to feed on aquatic plants and as small as dragonflies to lay their eggs.

How does a beaver construct its dam? What makes beaver lodges safe from predators? What adaptations help beaver stay underwater for as long as 15 minutes? Come explore beaver country with a naturalist from Squam Lakes Natural Science Center and meet a live beaver up close. This program is open to all and admission is free!

Upcoming Meetings...

Keeping the public updated and aware of what's going on in our community and receiving residents' feedback is an important goal of the City Council. Check each week's issue of Laconia Links for a schedule of the upcoming week's meetings. As agendas become available, they will be posted to the City's website.

You can also contact any of the City's departments for more information on a meeting or to obtain a printed copy of the agenda. Meetings are open to the public. You are invited and encouraged to attend and provide input.

Multi-talented George “Rusty” Locke to Perform at Taylor Community

George “Rusty” Locke was born in New Hampshire almost 70 years ago and has spent much of his life in this land of hard stone walls and tall pines. His music spans decades and contains bits and pieces of his life strung out in a variety of musical styles.

Locke is a gifted storyteller, musician, actor and writer and brings his talents to Taylor Community on Monday, Sept. 19 for a 2 p.m. performance at Taylor’s Woodside Building.

This event is free and open to the public, but please RSVP to 524-5600 to ensure seating.

Locke joined the Army at 17 and went to Korea as a photographer and combat journalist in the early 1960's, writing for the 1st Cavalry Division and The Pacific Edition of Stars and Stripes. It was while he was in the Far East that Locke began writing the songs of his life.

When he returned to the states, he spent time in the southwest as a radio producer and writer at White Sands Missile Range and began performing and touring in the West Texas area where he absorbed the young folk music explosion that was taking place.

After the service, Locke returned to New England and attended school in Boston, then began a career in radio broadcasting in central New Hampshire.

OPECHEE GARDEN CLUB

A growing tradition in the Lakes Region

OPECHEE GARDEN CLUB OPENS FALL PROGRAMS WITH "FOLKLORE OF GARDEN & WILD FLOWERS"

On Monday, September 12, 2016, at 1 P.M., Opechee Garden Club will begin its fall programs at the Gilford Community Church, 19 Potter Hill Road, in Gilford. A Business Meeting will be followed by a speaker program titled, "Folklore of Garden and Wild Flowers", presented by Marilyn Gilmour, New Hampshire's 2003 Environmental Educator of the Year.

Dedicated to bringing the beauty and importance of nature to the forefront, Marilyn had most of her formal education in Massachusetts, studying and graduating from the Hathaway School of Conservation, as well as the Essex County Agricultural School, and finally at Salem State College where she studied natural history, exotic trees shrubs, botany and geology.

In Audubon, Massachusetts, at the Ipswich River Wildlife Center, Mari was a tour guide, a director of their summer camp, and director of volunteers. She brought nature programs to the mentally ill and the criminally insane by providing wild flower and nature walks, birding, and water color paintings of nature.

More recently, she has served as a Senior Program Naturalist and Pre-K Coordinator and Director at the Seacoast Science Center of Rye, New Hampshire, where she worked for 21 years creating programs for both children and adults. Mari is currently employed at the Misty Meadows Herb Farm in New Hampshire, as a wild crafter, one who forages for wild medicinal plants, and is attending school there to become a certified herbalist. Additionally, she has been creating natural history and woodland hikes during the summer for children in nearby communities.

While she has several different program offerings available, Mari will be delivering a power point presentation that will focus on garden and wild flowers and the folklore that accompanies them.

Hospitality Chairs, Carol Block and Carolyn Dickey, along with their Committee, Rachel Achber, Lois Bolduc, Gail Brewer, Eleanor Brouillard, Priscilla Clark, Nancy Fuchs, Carmel Lancia, Nancy Leroy, Brenda O'Brien, Connie Russell, and Sharon Tyler, will provide refreshments and table décor. While the Business Meeting begins at 1:00 P.M., members and their guests are encouraged to arrive between 12:30-1:00 P.M., to chat and visit with friends before the meeting begins. Opechee Garden Club always welcomes new members!
