Tales from the Home of the World's Worst Weather

While many places on earth experience severe weather, few are inhabited by humans 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The Mount Washington Observatory has been operating a continuously-staffed scientific outpost on a remote peak since 1932, providing the Observatory with information on many remarkable storms and an intimate knowledge of the mountain.

Will Broussard, the Observatory's Education Coordinator, will share Tales from the Home of the World's Worst Weather, Monday, July 24 at 6:30 p.m. in Taylor Community's Woodside Building. The event is free and open to the public.

Through the years, the hearty men and women of the Observatory have experienced white-out blizzards, stunning 100-mile vistas and everything in-between. They've survived a 230-mile wind gust, endless days of disorienting fog and snow drifts more than 20 feet tall. They have worked with scientists and celebrities, students and snow rangers. And they have amassed one of North America's longest continuous climate records.

Avian Adventures: New Hampshire Birds

Come see mounted birds, feathers, wings, feet, beaks, nests and eggs as Education Specialist Hilary Chapman presents a lecture about bird habitats and basic bird biology. A live raptor is sure to steal the show at the end of the presentation. The program is scheduled for Monday, July 24 at 2 p.m. in Taylor Community's Woodside Building. The event is free and open to the public.

Taylor Community Yard Sale - August 19th

Mark your calendars for Taylor Community's yard sale Saturday, Aug. 19 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Seven locations around the campus will be set up with a large variety of items at great prices. Residents will hand out maps at the campus entrance to help people easily find all areas. Hot dogs and ice cream will be for sale for hungry shoppers.

Please: no early birds or parking on the grass. Note no public restrooms will be available.

The Belknap Mill is excited to present the 39th Army Band NH National Guard on Thursday, July 20th from 7:00 p.m.-8 p.m. in Rotary Riverside Park and Gazebo located behind the Mill.

This concert series is generously sponsored by the Putnam Fund to provide the citizens of the greater Laconia area the opportunity to gather and enjoy musical talents in the heart of downtown Laconia.

This is a free event that is open to the public. "We encourage you to bring the family, a picnic dinner and your lawn chairs and enjoy the music and relax," says Events and Program Coordinator, Jennifer McLean.

The 39th Army Band NH National Guard has represented the United States of America overseas on missions that have included St. Croix, Virgin Islands, and Athens, Greece, and as Good Will Ambassadors to the country of Costa Rica in July 1995. The band is comprised of musicians representing many communities throughout the state who are dedicated soldiers and whose high standard of performance is respected and anticipated wherever they play. The band performs military marches, pop and jazz music. Should there be inclement weather the show will be held on the third floor of the Belknap Mill at 25 Beacon Street East in Laconia. For a listing of the artists, visit the Belknap Mill website at www.belknapmill.org, or find them on Facebook.
